San Diego County Medical Society Foundation and Kaiser Permanente Partner to Deliver Free Surgeries During Saturday Surgery Day Program

Local Doctors Volunteer to Give Hope to 32 Uninsured San Diegans

SAN DIEGO – October 14, 2013 – Thirty two San Diegans who have been suffering with pain, injury, lack of vision, and other debilitating conditions will receive free, life-changing medical treatment during Saturday Surgery Day this October 19, thanks to a partnership between the San Diego County Medical Society Foundation (SDCMSF; <http://www.sdcmsf.org>) and Kaiser Permanente (<http://kp.org/sandiego>). This Saturday Surgery Day, an important part of the Foundation's Project Access San Diego, will take place at Kaiser Permanente Garfield Specialty Center, 5893 Copley Dr., San Diego 92111.

About 150 physicians and staff will volunteer their time and expertise to provide medical care including hernia repairs, gallbladder removals, orthopedic, and vascular surgeries for 14 patients. Additionally, 20 patients will receive diagnostic gastrointestinal procedures to prevent colorectal cancer. The day will also feature a volunteer kick-off breakfast at 6:30 a.m.

Saturday will mark the 12th Saturday Surgery Day at Kaiser Permanente since Project Access' inception in December 2009. To date, Kaiser Permanente has contributed over $2.25 million in donated services to Project Access San Diego.

Among the patients benefiting from Saturday Surgery Day is Ramiro Hernandez, a self-employed house painter and construction worker supporting his wife and six children. Ramiro will have a double hernia repaired, allowing him to work without pain and regain his quality of life for the first time in over 20 years.

“Project Access San Diego has been laser focused on enhancing the lives of underinsured or uninsured San Diegans since its inception in 2008,” said Barbara Mandel, executive director of the San Diego County Medical Society Foundation. “To date, more than 2,250 patients have received free specialty care, including both inpatient and outpatient surgeries and procedures since Project Access San Diego’s inception in December 2008,” Mandel added.

According to Paul Bernstein, MD, FACS, San Diego-area medical director for Southern California Permanente Medical Group, “Our team of dedicated physicians routinely find Saturday Surgery Day one of the most rewarding programs of the year. Our goal is to do everything in our power to enhance the lives of those who are ill or injured. Saturday Surgery Day provides us with the ability to do just that – to use our talents to give back to San Diegans in need.”

To qualify for Project Access San Diego’s Saturday Surgery Day an individual must live in San Diego County, be low-income, ineligible for public health programs, and be referred by their primary care physician.
